fem:talent Scholarships of the University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer

The University of Applied Sciences Emden-Leer supports female students with the fem:talent scholarship. The scholarship is aimed at

- Students of technical bachelor degree courses (Faculties of Technology and Maritime Sciences),
- Students of all master degree courses as well as
- Doctoral candidates, who can be expected to achieve or have already achieved outstanding performance during their university studies or in their profession and who are enrolled at the University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer or have a supervisory relationship with the University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer for their dissertation. The selection criteria can be found in §4 of the regulations for the awarding of fem:talent Scholarships of the University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer.

The scholarship comprises financial support for one year and the membership in the “fem:talent pool” as long as enrolled at the University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer or until the dissertation is completed. The scope of the scholarship shall amount to € 1,800 for a period of six months for Bachelor and Master students and shall amount to € 3,000 for a period of six months for doctoral candidates. A child benefit supplement shall be possible (1st child: € 300 for a period of six months; each additional child: € 180 for a period of six months). The approval period is two semesters, namely for one year. The University will review the aptitude and performance after the first six months. A repeated application for the financial support is possible, also for the next level of studies. The maximum support period shall be governed by the standard period of study in the respective field of studies or, in case of a PhD dissertation, until the end of the PhD dissertation qua the passed thesis defence.

The fem:talent pool supports the contact between the scholarship holders by different events especially by topics in the field of advancement of women. During the period of financial support, the scholarship holders are obliged to attend the events of the fem:talent pool.

The University of Applied Sciences Emden/Leer takes part in the Professorinnenprogramm II at a national and state level, which allows the scholarship to be awarded. The Professorinnenprogramm aims to support gender equality at universities, to improve the presence of women at all levels of qualification in science, and to increase the number of women in leading positions. The scholarship is awarded subject to the financial support provided by the Professorinnenprogramm.

The selection committee decides upon the awarding of the scholarship. The award is granted along with the provision of money. The selection committee does not justify their decisions to the students as the whole decision process is confidential.

There is no legal claim of the scholarship.

You can apply to the scholarship until 31.10.2023 (24 o'clock) online via www.hs-emden-leer.de/sl/femtalent-stipendium.
